MORA COLLEGE.

Programme, Examination and Distribution of Prizes.

From parties who were at Mora last week, we learn that the exhibition and annual examination had at the convent there, was a splendid affair, both from the very large number that was present, and the creditable manner in which the teachers and students acquitted themselves.

The programme was a very lengthy one and those who were present were delighted at the attainments of the students, showing as it did a thorough and careful training.

The college is under the supervision of President David, and judging from the results of his services as shown by the advancement of its students he is the right man in the right place.

Brother Fabran, the teacher of music in this department, deserves especial mention for his success as shown by the surprising accomplishments of those under his tutelage.

At the convent of the Sisters of Loreto, the management was equally good. It is seldom that we see so much beauty and such a highly interesting programme as was presented on the occasion referred to. The girls gave evidences of systematic management, and showed a wonderful talent for music, and other branches of education.

Upon the whole the success of both teachers and pupils should be a source of consolation to them, as it certainly is to all who were present and witnessed the exhibition. It is to be hoped the good work will go on and continue to improve in the future as it has done in the past.

The following is the programme of the annual examination, August 26th at 2 p. m.:

The Concert.

Last Sunday night one of the finest musical concerts that ever occurred in Las Vegas was held at the Methodist Church.

The house was literally crowded and many had to go away for want of room.

The first concert was good, but this one was better. All the performers acquitted themselves well.

Mr. Angell presided.

The following was the programme:

1. Opening piece, "Coonation," by congregation.

2. Prayer, by Dr. Callen.

3. Duet, "Music," by Misses Cavanaugh.

4. Anthem, "Praise Ye Jehovah," by choir.

5. Solo, "The Heart Bowed Down," by Mr. Seewald.

6. Song, "Precious Promise," by congregation.

7. Declaration, "Paddle Your Own Canoe," by John Callen.

8. Solo and Quartette, "The Old, Old Home," by Messrs Cavanaugh and Messrs. Callen and Stecker.

9. Solo, "The Heart Bowed Down," by Mr. Callen.

10. Grand Chorus, "Joy to the World," Choir.

11. Song, "I Hear Thy Welcome Voice," by congregation.

12. Song, by Miss Cavanaugh.

13. Quartette, "Memories of Galilee," Mrs. Stecker, Mary Stecker and Messrs. Callen and Stecker.

14. Instrumental, Quartette, by Miss Evans, and Messrs. Boffa, Marcelino and Scherer.

15. Song, "Sweet Bye and Bye," by congregation.

Among the pieces rendered, which were especially worthy of notice, are the following:

Duet, "Annie," by Misses Cavanaugh; Solo, "The heart bowed down," by Mr. Seewald, was well rendered. Mr. Seewald shows himself to be a master of music. A solo, by Miss Cavanaugh, was given in excellent style. She has perfect control of her voice, and glides easily and gracefully through the various changes of tone. The instrumental Quartette, by Miss Evans, and Messrs. Boffa, Marcelino and Scherer, was highly appreciated by the audience and at the close of the piece the performers were greeted with rounds of applause did not cease until the players came out again and treated the admiring people to another display of their art. These concerts are a commendable enterprise and if properly carried on will ultimately prove of great benefit to the musical talent of Las Vegas.

Two Trains Ditched.

The heavy rains of the last few days have rendered the roads north of Las Vegas very insecure. Yesterday a freight train started from Las Vegas. Out at the Mora river one of the bents of the bridge gave down, causing the track to spring and thus allowing the engine and three cars to run off on the ties. The bridge is not so badly injured but that it can be repaired in a short time. The passenger that left Trinidad night before last, heavily loaded with passengers, ran off the track near Maxwell Station. Several of the coaches were considerably twisted but no one was injured. Thus matters stood at last accounts along the road at the north. At the south things had assumed a much better appearance. The road and bridges had all been repaired by dark and a train was expected during the early part of the evening.

GAZETILLA.

Forrestard General, gathered from Quarters of the City and Vicinity.

C. Barela, of Trinidad, is stopping in town.

—Buy your tickets to-day for the Little Folk's concert to-morrow night.

—Remember the Little Folks concert next Wednesday night and do not fail to go.

—Mr. Gray Bennett of the firm of Moore & Bennett, is in town. He is on his way east.

—What is going to happen? A. O. Robbins went to church Sunday. He really enjoyed it.

—reight train number 106, Mr. Curry conductor, was ditched beyond Watrous. No lives lost.

F. J. Weber, the auctioneer, has two spans of large American mules and two wagons for sale at reasonable rates.

—Mr. B. Stoops returned Sunday morning from Fort Bascom whither he had gone to purchase beef cattle for his meat market.

—About 300 passengers are at Trinidad waiting for the trains to run through to Las Vegas. Trinidad is now having a picnic.

—There are two lines of railroad in the Mora Cañon now, one is the high line where the trains run and the other is the low line in the bed of the river.

—Geo. H. Utter, the assayer, will go to Socorro in a few days to open an assay office at that point as he has some excellent inducements offered him there.

—Mrs. Kelso, Georgetown, Colorado; Chas. Mead, Baugh's Siding; Gray Bennett, Albuquerque; Scott Moore, Hot Springs, are stopping at the Summer House.

—Mr. John P. Sellar, who had been quite ill for some days past has happily sufficiently recovered to be able to be up again. He intends going east by the first train.

—Santiago Valdes, Taos, C. Barela, Trinidad; Stephen Biernbaum, Mora; Robt. Mings, Puerto de Luna; S. C. and L. C. Roberts, Hot Springs, are stopping at the St. Nicholas.

—Mr. R. G. McDonald returned yesterday from Chicago, where he has been attending the Grand Annual Conclave of the Knights Templar. Mr. McDonald is looking well and says had a splendid time.

—A little son of Mr. P. Trembley was thrown from a horse Sunday and severely hurt. His right arm was broken about an inch above the elbow joint and his head was severely hurt. Dr. Shout attended him and set the broken arm.

—Mr. J. S. Credit, the popular barber in the Exchange Hotel, has engaged the services of Mr. W. H. Wink of New York, who is an accomplished tonsorial artist. They will now be able to give customers prompt attention and satisfaction.

—There will be a meeting of business men at the office of the First National Bank, on Tuesday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, sharp, for the purpose of perfecting arrangements to build a hotel on the plaza. All parties interested are invited to attend.

—Rupe & Castle's planing mill was in motion all day yesterday. The frame work of the main building and the adobe work for the engine house is being pushed as rapidly as possible. Things had a business air around there all day.

—The new hotel we believe will be a fixed fact. Negotiations are now pending which we believe will be a to the important result. A meeting is called for the business men this evening at the First National Bank, when it is expected that the arrangements will be completed.

Messrs. F. O. Kihlberg and John Campbell will go to Baugh's Siding to-day for the purpose of laying out a town site there, as it has such advantages of timber, agricultural and mineral lands immediately surrounding it, that it will evidently prove a town of permanent importance. It is desired that a post office be established there and likewise a depot. The town will be given a christian name and we hope it may prosper exceedingly.

—A young man, whose name we withhold from the public, for the present, went to Mr. Lewellings stable Saturday morning and hired a horse to go, as he said, to Upper Las Vegas or the Hot Springs to get a couple of horses he had there. It would not have taken over a half day at the longest to have made the trip, but at last accounts yesterday evening, the man nor horse had been heard of. Mr. Lewellings now thinks that his horse has been stolen.

—Mr. Hilt, who has just returned from a tour of inspection of the White Oaks, brings a glowing report of the richness of the mines there. The Homestake he pronounces as rich as the most sanguine could have anticipated. The owners are in high delight over the discoveries made by the tunnel. And it is not only in the Homestake but there are plenty of other mines in the vicinity which will prove of equal value. He pronounces it the richest mineral country he ever saw.

—The GAZETTE office runs day and night and only stops by law for Sunday. It employs three editors, six rapid compositors, three day and three night, two job printers, one make up, one pressman and two roustabouts. It publishes the GAZETTE daily and weekly, a campaign weekly in English and Spanish and three monthly journals, viz: the Mining World for Messrs. Mills & Hadley, Christian Advocate for the Methodist Mission and the New Mexico Miner for Mr. Hilt.
